THE REPORTS OF THE COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN SHOW VAST AMOUNT OF WORK

CHAS. P. FULLER ELECTED SECRETARY FOR COMING YEAR

Treasurer's Report Shows That Ways and Means Must Be Had by Which Financial End Is to Be Handled. Reports.

C. P. Fuller is now the official secretary of the local Red Cross chapter, having been named at the meeting of the official board Monday morning. Mrs. Bess Jones was recommended by the committee and when told of her appointment stated that she was not familiar with the work and having had very little experience along that line said she preferred that some one else be named. Mr. Fuller was then named and in accepting he stated, "I preferred that some one else be named but believing as I do that the least we should do is the most we can do in this work, I accept and will try to look after the work, but I hope you won't compare my work with that of your former secretary, Mr. H. M. May, as he is a secretary few of which exist."

Monthly Bulletin
Pacific coast Red Cross organizations are to receive a copy of the Red Cross monthly bulletin which will give valuable information on plans adopted by the different organizations.

Treasurer's Report
It was evident by the report of Treasurer Lemon that ways and means must be found by which the financial end of the local chapter will be looked after as it takes at least $500 a month to purchase material used by the ladies in their work. One hundred men of the town are to be called on by the chamber of commerce to give $5 a month for one year, thus relieving the situation.

Work Goes on
If the United States doesn't win this war it won't be because the women of this town failed to do their part, for in Red Cross activities for each and every month there is a vast amount of work accomplished. Mrs. H. W. Flowers, head of the knitting department, reported Monday morning that during the month of February 330 garments were made and forwarded. It took 475 pounds of yarn which cost $3.30 per pound. Yarn was given out during the month for 444 garments.

Red Cross Shop
The Red Cross shop in charge of Mrs. C. E. Grier, is another feature of the Red Cross work getting big results, for Mrs. Grier reported a total of $140.15 received through the activities of that department. If you have some old clothes hanging in your closets that can be sold and utilized, give them to the Red Cross shop. Mrs. Grier states that she needs a small show case in which to display goods, and if you have one that's idle, let Mrs. Grier know about it.

Figures Make You Dizzy
To the average man the following report of the committee of which Mrs. R. O. Price is chairman, will have a dizzying effect, for Mrs. Price reported 3000 compresses, 1875 sponges, 185 three-yard rolls, 668 yards muslin and 2300 yards gauze for bandages.

Hospital Garments
Mrs. E. W. Thayer reported five boxes of individual garments forwarded and while the figures do not loom up as big, the work on each garment is greater than in the other departments.

The Youngsters Too
And if you haven't been assisting the Red Cross just blush for shame, for here is what the youngsters, under Miss Noe, are doing. For the month of February 16 sweaters, 3 helmets, 3 wash rags, 20 wristlets, 100 property bags, 20 ambulance pillows, 15 afghans, 60 joke books. Tommy Craig still holds the banner among the boys as a knitter of sweaters, or anything else needed. The following letters were received by the Red Cross.

U. S. S. Samar, Feb. 3, 1918.
Shanghai, China.
Red Cross Committee of Upland.
I have just received your kind and wholesome Christmas present, with the sweater and knit in it, and must say that the people of Upland are surely treating their boys at the

CASE TO BECOME A MOST FAMOUS ONE

MENDOZA VS. WELCH BEGINS TODAY IN SUPERIOR COURT

Counsel Will Put the Question Squarely up to Jurors, It Is Said. Must Decide: "How Much Is It Worth?"

Trial of the suit of Luis Mendoza vs. R. M. Welch, rich Cucamonga man, for $25,000 began in the superior court in San Bernardino today, and it promises to become one of the most famous cases in court history.

If the jury decides that Welch is liable for the automobile accident in which Mendoza was injured, it then has a momentous decision to make.

Among other injuries Mendoza was partially unsexed and incapacitated as a parent.

This is the question which the jury will decide: How much is it worth? It was reported yesterday that the counsel for the plaintiff will put the question squarely up to each juror and ask him to consider what he believed his own right to posterity was worth in the prime of life.

Mendoza's plans for marriage were cancelled, it is alleged, when the results of the accident became apparent. Mendoza had halted his automobile on the Foothill boulevard as another machine stopped in front of him. His motor was still running. Mendoza was seated in front of the steering wheel and rod. Welch's minor son crashed into Mendoza's machine from the rear, throwing Mendoza violently forward. He came in contact with the steering rod. The accident occurred in daylight on a straight road with unobstructed view, it is alleged.

Attorneys McNabb & Hodge will represent Mendoza and Attorneys Leonard, Surr & Hellyer will defend Welch.

Famous men and women appear in Judge Crane's court every once in a while, and W. H. Clune, the famous theatrical magnate, made his appearance here in February. SHE GOT USED TO IT AND THEN SHE DIED

A few mornings ago Mr. L. N. Kirk found one of his Rhode Island Red hens dead and expecting to find a small grain of feed in her wind pipe, he proceeded to dissect her. Not finding the grain, he continued his search until the trouble was found. But he also discovered the point

"LEAD ON WITH THE DANCE" SAY THEY

CITY POLITICS BEGINNING TO SHOW UNUSUAL INTEREST

Precedent to Be Established in Selection of City Treasurer. Councilmanic Candidates Have No Opposition.

They're off, and the race is on for the city election. Nominating petitions have been filed with the county clerk from Upland as follows: for city trustee, C. K. Francisco, A. B. Whitney, A. H. Johnson; for city treasurer, O. E. Atwood and M. F. Palmer; for city clerk, C. P. Fuller.

Upland needs three councilmen and so the candidates have no opposition, but in the city treasurer's contest it's different, for friends of O. E. Atwood insist that voters in casting their ballots for Mr. Atwood will not only vote for a resident of the city with business interests here and a capable young man as well, but that they will clearly demonstrate as well that they are firm in the opinion that there are men and women residing here who are capable to carry on city business without calling in outsiders.

A precedent is to be established at the coming election for city treasurer and those opposing Mr. Palmer have but one argument against his being elected, and that is that he is not a resident of the city. Voters urging Mr. Atwood's election state that if Mr. Palmer is elected it will clearly demonstrate that the idea of city government "for the people and by the people" who reside within the city will be a farce and that it will clearly demonstrate that voters of this town are firm in the opinion that we lack men and women residing here who have brains enough to conduct city affairs.

With the opposing factions, however, it's a case of "lead on with the dance," and on April 8th Mr. and Mrs. Voter will settle the discussion.

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS COLONIAL TONIGHT

Tonight Douglas Fairbanks comes to the Colonial and Fairbanks fans are planning on a big treat for tonight. "Wild and Woolly" is the vehicle and the thrills come often throughout the reel.

Following tonight's show the entire week is filled with numerous entertaining productions, while for Thursday night, March 21, Mac Marsh is to appear in "The Cinderella Man," coming as the feature show of next week.

It is the story of a young heiress, Marjorie Caner, who is so much touched by the account given by her father's lawyer of a young poet, Anthony Quintard, who is starving in a garret at the other end of the block, that she undertakes to bring him food and comforts over the roof. Her trips to the garret are made during Quintard's absence; but one day he catches her. He suspects that she is the millionaire's daughter, and is about to evict her because, as a Socialist, he has no use for persons who are "filthy rich," when she tells him she is just Marjorie Caner's companion, Miss Mudgie. So he suffers her to remain, and presently she volunteers to help him by typewriting his opera libretto which he has just completed to be submitted in a contest for a $10,000 prize.

In due course, Quintard finds himself in love with "Miss Mudgie," but feels unable to declare himself because he has no money. At last, however, he makes bold to ask her if she'll have him when he makes good; and he is delighted when she tells him "perhaps."

The pin sticking clear through the gizzard, two shoe eyelets, six pieces of dress snaps, two copper rivets, a piece of a pocket knife, one cartridge shell, two brass screws, one hundred and thirty-nine pieces of glass, fifteen pieces of china, five shoe nails, eight pieces of lead, three shot, fifteen pieces of copper, three pieces of wire, one ounce of small stones and three pieces of electrical appliances.

Mr. Kirk says she was Hooverizing and was doing her part to turn waste into eggs for food, and help win the war—but she died.

SECRETARY WHITNEY CONFERS WITH OFFICIALS AT RIVERSIDE

Chamber Asks 100 Citizens to Pledge $5 Per Month for Red Cross. Gypsy Concert to Be Repeated Soon.

Secretary A. B. Whitney of the chamber of commerce has let no grass grow under his feet, since his appointment at the last meeting of the board of directors of the chamber.

Following a meeting of the War Activities Committee held yesterday morning Mr. Whitney made a hurried trip to Riverside to confer with government officials in regard to the establishing of an aviation school in the Upland district. Chairman John D. Howe of the committee and President Barr of the chamber of commerce have carried on an investigation of the needs of the government, and of available sites, that may result in the location of a great training school for United States army aviators in this vicinity.

Campaign for Local Red Cross Funds

Following an appeal from the Upland chapter of the American Red Cross for funds the chamber of commerce is cooperating in a campaign for funds. The patriotic women of this city worked so faithfully that the funds for the purchase of materials for their work have been nearly exhausted. That there may be no break in the work which is meaning so much to our boys and the men of our Allies, letters have been sent out offering a hundred patriotic citizens the privilege of underwriting the work of our Red Cross workers for a year. The prompt return of the cards from these letters will permit the local work to move forward steadily. This campaign bears no relation to the national effort that will be made within a few months for funds for the entire nation.

Gypsy Concert to Be Repeated for Red Cross

With a view to giving the people of Upland a rare musical treat, and at the same time to raise money for the Upland Red Cross chapter, J. M. Webster of the chamber of commerce had arranged for the repetition at the Upland grammar school of the Gypsy concert, which was produced at Chaffey recently under the auspices of the War Mothers Club of Ontario. The evening was a great success and Mrs. Princess Long and her assistants received the highest commendation for the success of the evening. After consultations with the Ontario chapter of the Red Cross, which is also in need of funds for the local work, it has been decided to repeat the concert at Chaffey Union high school auditorium some time in the not too distant future, for the benefit of both chapters. This arrangement will give an opportunity for more people to enjoy the evening, as the seating capacity at our high school is nearly double that of the grammar school auditorium. The scenic effects possible on the big stage at Chaffey, too, are superb, and lend much to the effect of the program. There will be no question about the obtaining of a crowd when the evening comes for the concert.

Former Secretary May to Corona

It was with keen regret that the directors of the chamber of commerce accepted the resignation of Mr. H. M. May from his office as secretary-treasurer. Mr. May is qualified in every way for the work, and had taken hold with wisdom and enthusiasm. He carries with him to his greater field at Corona the best wishes of this community.

New Headquarters of the Chamber

With the installation this week of the desk and equipment of Secretary A. B. Whitney of the chamber of commerce in the Isaac's studio rooms, the handsome depot of the Pacific Electric on Euclid avenue ceases to be the official residence of the local organization. The exhibits and desk which were installed for the convenience of the traveling public will be maintained by the chamber of commerce, and Mr. Tonneson as an enthusiastic member of the local organization will continue to make incoming strangers welcome to our city. However, Secretary Whitney will have a more

LEMONS TO HOLD THE FORT FOR US

O. K. EXCHANGE TO SHIP ABOUT 225 CARS NAVELS THIS SEASON

Ninety Per Cent of Fruit From This District Will Be 126s, Says Manager Myers. Market Is Very Good.

The 1918 navel season is now under way in this district and the present indications are that in spite of the fact that the O. K. Exchange will ship but 225 cars, the money returns will be more than satisfactory for the amount of fruit shipped. In talking with Manager D. E. Myers of the Ontario-Cucamonga Exchange, he stated: "Ninety per cent of the fruit from this district will be 126s and larger and on account of the large fruit the quotations are made on basis of each size. Today the f. o. b. prices on 126s best grade fruit is $4.25 and I find there is a difference in the price quoted of about 75 cents on each size. The O. K. will ship this year about 225 cars of navel, 150 of them being packed and shipped from Upland. Last year this exchange shipped 2600 cars of navel."

The Lemon Outlook

The short crop of navel here is to be quite largely offset by a fair crop of lemons and strange as it may seem the smaller trees, those from four to seven years old, have a much larger crop in proportion than those older trees which have been producing big returns for years. The O. K. Exchange estimate on the number of cars to be shipped from the district is 600 cars to August 31. Last year 788 cars were shipped.

Markets Good

Marketing conditions are good and all cars are being taken in just as fast as they arrive in market and from all indications satisfactory returns will be had for all fruit shipped during the coming season.

CITY COUNCIL CALLS THE CITY ELECTION

In order to maintain a city beautiful idea the city council will make a recommendation within a short time as to what trees are to be planted to replace those which die along Euclid avenue. Several trees have died, and in some instances trees have been planted in their stead, each property owner selecting the tree he desired. The council is to recommend a tree and thus insure the same effect along the entire avenue.

Election Called

The last reading of the call for the city election was had Monday night and the notice ordered published. In another column readers will find the notice, which combines certain projects and names the election officers, among them many prominent women of the city.

Wrong Location

J. Lynward Grahame completed plans to erect a sign over the Craig Hall building and had the work under way when city officials stopped the work and asked Mr. Grahame to talk with the city council regarding the sign, as according to the regulations within the city fire limits, the sign was not allowable. The council denied Mr. Grahame's request for the sign, because of the danger in case of fire, and should every building in town be equipped with such signs the effect would indeed be startling.

To Change Lights

Owing to the fact that Street Superintendent Woodbridge nor any of his men have ever been trapeze or ladder performers in a circus it has become necessary to make arrangements to have street lights equipped so that they can be lowered to the ground. At the present time, in order to change a light, an employee must dangle at the upper end of a ladder while two other men act as props. The change has been ordered.

To Dip the Dip

The culverts at Tenth street and Third avenue are not large enough to carry the water during storms, and as oil from the street constantly fills the culverts, a dip is to be made in the street.

convenient "uptown" office where he can keep in touch with the needs and activities of the city.

No date has been announced for the housewarming in the new offices but perhaps when the secretary has leisure from more pressing duties, he can arrange to do the honors.

CLUB WOMEN WILL NAME CANDIDATES

DECIDE TO NAME CANDIDATES AT CONVENTION HELD MONDAY

Appoint Committee of Three to Canvass Situation. Disclaim Intention of Entering Politics, But Want Representation.

San Bernardino county's federation of women's clubs Monday decided to place candidates in the field in the August primaries in as many supervisory districts as it is possible to secure women candidates. Practically every woman's club in the county was represented at the conference, and Mrs. J. Edwin Batchelor, of San Bernardino, chairman of the meeting, announced Monday night the decision to enter a woman's ticket at the election was unanimous.

No candidates were selected at the meeting, but a committee of three prominent women was named to make a canvass of the situation and prevail upon women to enter the campaign.

"We are not going into politics," said Mrs. Batchelor. "We are seeking the election of women to the board of supervisors for the reason there are many details of public affairs in which women and children are concerned, and we believe that a woman should have a direct voice in the proceedings of the supervisors and in shaping the policies of the county."

The names of the committee charged with the duty of selecting candidates are not announced. Although there have been rumors some club women do not favor the campaign for a woman's ticket, there was no opposition at the conference.

Authorized delegates at the meeting Monday included Mrs. H. E. Pritchard of Colton, Mrs. J. Edwin Batchelor of San Bernardino, Mrs. William B. Oliver of Grand Terrace, Mrs. B. S. Casey of Rialto, Mrs. E. W. Reid of Cucamonga, Mrs. Jacob Jenson of Ontario, Mrs. Adda H. Manker of Upland, Mrs. Brandt of Fontana, Mrs. May Perry Allen of Redlands, Mrs. Florence D. Schenman of San Bernardino, president of the federation. Several others were invited to the conference.

THREE ORANGES AT FIVE DOLLARS EACH

Stolen oranges in the city of Upland was Monday morning placed at $5.00 each when Judge Crane fined J. W. Hutchins of Pomona the sum of $15 for taking three oranges from the grove of T. R. Woodbridge, on Sunday, March 3.

In paying his fine and bidding the court good-bye, Mr. Hutchins said, "Judge, there's twenty dollars, $15 for the fine and $5 for your local Red Cross, with my compliments. Orange stealing is bad for the grower; I know because I was formerly one of them, and if somebody had to be an example it could just as well be me. Good-bye, judge, and the next time we meet I hope it will be under different circumstances."

Orange stealing in this man's town is going to stop and as Mrs. Russ, a cousin to Mr. Hutchins, said, "If Mr. Hutchins had been paid for every orange he had had stolen from his groves he would be considerably better off financially."

Thus did Mrs. Russ express the opinion of growers here who believe that orange stealing should cease. T. R. Woodbridge, city engineer and street superintendent, who swore to the complaint, stated to Mr. Hutchins, "I feel that I am very much in the position of the parent who has had to punish a child for an unintentional infraction of the home rules. It hurts me as much as it does you, but the growers are determined to stop orange stealing at all cost and you happen to be the first victim."

BOY SCOUT NOTICE

On account of the stormy weather last week the Scout meeting had to be postponed. If a suitable evening, they are asked to meet this Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. All Scouts are urged to come, both regular members and the Juniors. Signed by the Scout Master, R. C. STONE.

The Hayward Pigeon and Pet Stock club is increasing its membership. Sacramento valley has purchased more tractors than in any preceding year.

RED CROSS ACTIVITY GOES ON WITH RE-NEWED ENERGY AS DEMAND CALLS

NEARLY MILLION AND HALF MEMBERS IN THE PACIFIC DIVISION

Most Important Event This Week Was Appearance of New Publication, "The Pacific Red Cross."

One of the most important events of the week was the appearance of "The Pacific Red Cross," a periodical devoted to the activities of the Pacific division, which consists of California, Arizona, and Nevada.

The work of this division has become so extensive and so important that some such means of intercommunication had become necessary, and this paper, which will appear bi-monthly, meets a decided need.

There are now 1,400,000 regular and junior Red Cross members in this division, and this will be an aid to this great army of workers. Some idea of the work of this division may be had from the following figures for the last six months of 1917: 2,712,515 surgical dressings, but in the month of January alone there were 680,590 dressings, which is a gain of fifty per cent over the average of the preceding six months.

If you haven't received your Red Cross Magazine promptly it is because the circulation has increased from 240,000 last July to 1,300,000 now. Four of the largest printing establishments in America are working day and night and in spite of mail congestion and depleted transportation facilities the magazine will eventually reach the subscriber.

The sales at the Red Cross shop and the food sale last Saturday realized a substantial sum. As long as the present support continues the sales will be kept up, but on Saturday of this week on account of the food exhibit at the library there will be no sale. However, the shop will be open, and offers many attractive bargains.

Mrs. R. O. Price asks that any who has triangular bandages to bring them in at once, as a box is to be packed in a few days.

An anonymous friend of the chapter left ten dollars with Mrs. Slugg on Saturday.

An interesting exhibit of Junior Red Cross work was held at the grammar school last week. The work of the knitters was especially a matter for surprise and admiration. Further details of it are given elsewhere.

Salute to the Flag

"I pledge allegiance to the American Flag;
And the Republic for which it stands;
One Nation, indivisible,
With Liberty and Justice for all."

WHATEVER happens in this war, the worst is over. Come what may, we shall not see another such crisis as the Marne. We have to hold to win, to hold where the line has never been broken. All military observers, our own as well as those of the enemy, agree that Germany will presently try to obtain a decision in the west. That to her three great offensives—the first wrecked at the Marne, the second blocked at Ypres, the third smashed before Verdun—she will add a fourth, intended like the others to break through.

What are the probabilities of a German success in this great offensive? The German always has a chance to win a battle; when he had everything in his favor at the Marne, he failed; when he had ninety chances out of a hundred at Ypres, he failed; when he had a three to one chance at Verdun, he failed.

In his fourth attempt he will not have more than an even break, and he will have to break clear through to get a decision. If he doesn't he will have to abandon the offensive for good, because by the spring of 1919 we shall have such numbers of troops in France that the Allies can overwhelm him.

Every German newspaper and magazine is making a loud noise in an attempt to shake the nerves of the Allies in advance of the attack. This method is not proof of supreme confidence.

When the German attacks he is going to gain ground; this always happens in a big offensive. There isn't any doubt that along with this offensive the German will throw huge numbers of men against the front now held by American troops. He has done this with every new army as it took its place in the line, and it may be expected again—Farm and Fireside.

IT stands to reason that the United States government should no longer permit its part in the prosecution of the war to depend upon the impulse or whim of any body of citizens or of any trade organization, much less upon the decision of any group or individual intrusted with the direction of such a body or organization. Whether ship construction shall be pushed or retarded, carried on without interruption or obstructed, is a national, not a private or a trade question.

The government alone should determine the conditions under which shipyards shall be managed, as well as the conditions under which mechanics employed in shipyards shall be expected or obliged to work. It is as important that discipline shall obtain in war industry as in the army and navy. The usefulness of the army and navy, as defensive as well as offensive instruments in the present struggle, can be greatly impaired, if not completely nullified, by the failure of war industry to keep pace with the requirements of the nation in the production of all the things essential to the equipment and maintenance of the military forces. And, going farther, the natural resources of the nation and its ability to produce foodstuffs, raw stuffs, and manufactured articles, will be of no practical account, so far as the support of its allies is concerned, if ships in which to transport supplies across the Atlantic are lacking.

We have it on the authority of William Blackman, director of labor for the Emergency Fleet Corporation, that not only are ports and docks on the eastern side of the country now jammed with supplies awaiting shipment overseas, but that in Atlantic railway terminals alone there are more than 30,000 cars loaded with provisions and munitions which should be in the holds of vessels and on the way to Europe. The accumulation of supplies has reached the stage where there must be immediate relief if the terminals are not to be completely clogged, and if the millions of people, civilian and military, in need of these supplies are not to suffer great and unnecessary deprivation.

In view of this situation, why should any person or group of persons, on any plea, be permitted to complicate, impede, or obstruct the work of relief? Why should any personal or trade grievance count against the immeasurable consequences involved in anything that makes for delay in affording this relief?

There should be fair play for labor, there should be reward, and unstinted reward, for the faithful worker. It is quite as much the government's business and duty to see that he ship mechanic is well treated as it is to see that he does not put his own or the interests of his union before the interests of the United States and its allies. The selfish grabbing of the capitalistic profiteer should no more be permitted than the workman's strike. There should be no respect of private interests or persons. The profiteer whose selfishness and sordidness provokes the worker to strike is guilty of a greater offense against the nation than is the striker, and should be dealt with as a public enemy. But the government and not the worker should deal with him, must deal with him, if accounts are to be squared on all sides and kept square. Nothing will go farther toward insuring harder and better work, on the part of the war mechanics, than the knowledge and conviction that he is toiling for the nation and not for the profiteer, and that on pay day he will get a square deal.

It is possible to bring about an understanding and adjustment between the government and labor that will result in the accomplishment of wonderful things before the present year is over. Mr. Blackman says that the war can be won through the construction this year of 9,800,000 tons of ships by the United States and the Allies, an amount of tonnage that will not only overcome losses resulting from submarine attacks, but leave a margin necessary for the transport and maintenance of 1,500,000 United States troops overseas. Nothing like the characteristic American pace in construction has yet been reached in the shipyards. When it is established to the satisfaction of labor, as it can be by government assurance and action, that the work to be done is for the defense of the nation and its democratic ideals, and not for the profit of capitalistic adventurers, the present pace will be accelerated in such a manner as to surprise and please the nation's friends while astonishing and appalling its enemies.

As a necessary step toward this consummation, labor must learn that its first duty lies in obedience to the government, and the government must see to, while demanding and enforcing obedience with a steady and a firm hand, that the worker is protected in all his rights.—Christian Science Monitor.

ANOTHER loan for war purposes is to be asked of the people of the United States. This, the third of its kind, is to be inaugurated on April 6, the first anniversary of the entry of this country into the conflict as a belligerent. The day, therefore, will be a memorable and historic one in the annals of our country. Upon it we may consecrate anew our patriotism in word and deed; and we may once more thank the Kaiser for the situation in which we find ourselves—pay tribute to him and the ideals he represents. It goes without saying that all these things will be done in America. The anniversary will be fittingly observed; the appeal of the government will be responded to in substantial measure on this opening day of the loan campaign; the memory of Prussianism will tinge deeply the hearts and minds of every loyal man and woman, and their lives and their treasure will be offered willingly, gladly, on the altar of liberty, that the world menace may be more quickly crushed.

It matters little what may be the amount of the loan—whether it will be the remaining $3,600,000,000 authorized and unissued, or even a greater sum. Whatever is asked will be given. The people better understand now than they did when they were called upon to make their first contributions to the war chest. They have had a more intimate view of the best; they have had a closer acquaintance with the war god; their own firesides have been saddened; their own sons have gone down into the deep, dark shadows because of this thing.

The roar of maddened guns and the shrieks of dying men on the battlefields of Europe have been brought very much closer to us during the year which is just closing—the twelve months in which we have been actively engaged in contesting the designs of the world enemy. We have been educated in war. We see what a greedy thing it is, how it saps up the treasure of the fields and mines and how we must every one do our part if we are to preserve inviolate the land we love and the liberty we have won. There is no activity which war does not touch and from which, in touching, it does not demand and collect a sacrifice. That which we have built it destroys; that which we cherish it steals away from us; that which we have worked for years to create, it annihilates. It is the game of kings and could not be played at were their subjects wise. It is the kings and their pets who climb to eminence over the graves of men. It is Prussianism, cold and calculating, which we are facing today, as we faced it a year ago. It is Kultur we are called upon to correct. It cannot be done with an army and a navy which is not supported by enthusiastic forces behind them. Dollars alone can make us victorious over the common foe of civilization.

The war is costing America close to a billion dollars a month. Of the outlay of $1,002,878,608 in February, $665,400,000 was for ordinary war expenditures and $325,000,000 was loaned to our Allies. This indicates the debt we owe the German autocracy. This is the result in America, after three and a half years of Prussian intrigue in Europe. There is but one place to lay the blame. There is but one thing to do, now that the dogs of war have been let loose, and that is to finance the forces fighting the spread of this scourge.

The secretary of the treasury has made public the date upon which the drive for funds will begin as early as possible. It will not be long until the opening day is upon us, and it is the duty of every one who is in truth an American citizen to be prepared on that day to make the greatest contribution possible.—San Bernardino Index.

Apologies of the controversy still going over the personal appearance of Abraham Lincoln, it may be seasonable just now to recall a passage from Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll's eulogy, delivered many years ago. "Hundreds of persons are now engaged," Ingersoll said, "in smoothing out the lines of Lincoln's face—forcing all features to the common mold—so that he may be known, not as he really was, but as they think he should have been. Lincoln was not a type. He stands alone. He had not ancestors, he had no fellows, and he had no successors."—Exchange

Etiwanda

Happenings Here and There Gathered by a News Special Representative in and About the Famous Etiwanda Colony

Mr. C. C. Brownless was one of the principals in what came near being a very serious accident Monday at the intersection of Etiwanda avenue and the Foothill boulevard at Fourth street. Mr. Brownless was driving south, intending to cross Fourth street, and knowing the danger at that point, had almost stopped his machine. He glanced west, which being at his right was his direction to watch to secure his right of way, when an automobile driven by a resident of San Bernardino, going west, ran across in front in such a manner that Mr.
Brownless' front wheel struck the rear wheel. The west bound car turned completely around, but on one was thrown out of either car. The damage to both cars was slight, a couple of fenders missing and a bent spring being the extent of the damage. Judge Donnelly was called to the scene of the accident and said it was undoubtedly the fault of the San Bernardino machine. The driver should have been watching toward his right and should have had his machine under control at this crossing. It is to be hoped that the automobile club of Southern California will place dangerous crossing signs at this point so that no worse accident may occur.

Another accident Monday at the same point was caused by the mud and dirt that has washed on to Fourth street in the recent rains. A man and his wife, driving through at a reasonable rate of speed, struck a muddy stretch, threw in the brake and turned around and skided into a telephone pole, almost demolishing the car but not injuring the occupants to any great extent.

Mrs. D. W. Layne and son went to Los Angeles a week ago expecting to remain for a few days' visit with Mrs. Layne's parents. While there little Weaver broke out with measles. Mrs. Layne returned to Etiwanda Saturday leaving Weaver with his grandparents until he is well enough to come home.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmanuel Smith entertained Mr. and Mrs. Alex Mc-Cluskey and sons of Pasadena for the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Werner and daughter spent a delightful day Saturday at Huntington Beach, motoring down in the morning and returning the same day.

Ford Perdue returned home from El Centro Saturday in order to take his examinations before the draft board. He tried to enlist in December at the time Philip Johnston, Harold Ross and Howard Perdue enlisted but at that time failed to pass the examinations. At this time he has been placed in class five, so will not be called to the colors for some time to come.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Perdue are justly proud of the two sons who are already with Uncle Sam. Ernest, who is located at American Lake,
has been retained to train men while his company has been sent East. Ernest was one of the best shots in his company, only two men having held a better record. He is acting sergeant with sergeant's pay and expects to receive his appointment very soon. He has gained 31 pounds since his enlistment and likes army life. Howard Perdue, who is stationed in Texas, is also drawing sergeant's pay and will soon receive his appointment. He says he enjoys the programs furnished by the Y. M. C. A. and is having an excellent time. He has kept in good health since enlisting and says he has the easiest job for the money that he has ever found. He expects to remain in Texas for some time to help in the training of new recruits.

The ladies of the local Red Cross organization have been utilizing the pieces of goods left when cutting out garments by making rug rats.
These have been worked up into rag rugs, both woven and braided.
The rugs are now for sale at the Red Cross headquarters in Etiwanda,
or by applying to the president, Mrs. George E. Utman. Whatever is made from the sale of the rugs will be used by the local organization in purchasing material.

A number of young people enjoyed a camp fire and out of door
games at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
Charles Wood on Base Line Saturday evening. Those who were entertained were Catherine and Florence Brownless, Hazel Cour, Ethel Bilyeu, Isabel Smith, Louella, Katherine and Cyrus McClean, George Hoppe, Gerald Cour, Billy Hippard, and Elmo McCluskey of Pasadena who was a house guest in the Emmanuel Smith home for the weekend.

Mrs. Minnie Armstrong and Miss Catherine Johnston, who have been visiting their sister, Mrs. C. C.
Brownless, for the past three weeks,
returned to Los Angeles Thursday.

Mrs. Charles Wood and daughter Margaret spent Saturday in Los Angeles.

Miss Ella Drew spent the weekend with friends in Pasadena.
Miss Marie Trockell visited home folks in Los Angeles over Sunday.

The regular meeting of the Parent Teacher association will be held on next Wednesday afternoon in the geography room of the school house.
Every one who is interested in child welfare is invited to attend and urged to join. The dues in Etiwanda are only 25 cents per member, most of which goes to keep up the state and national work or is used for child welfare legislation. Those members who have not yet paid their dues are asked to be ready to pay them at the March meeting, that the president, Mrs. O. H. Price, may send in a better list of paid members than she was able to send to the Year Book last year. Mrs. J. K.
Spray, Mrs. A. C. Smith and Mrs.
Thomas Donnelly are hostesses for the meeting Wednesday and will have a short program. In the interest of conservation of food refreshments will probably be omitted
from the Parent Teacher association
at future meetings.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Congregational church, whose regular meeting day was Thursday of last week, postponed the meeting a week on account of the weather. In case this week, Thursday, is also rainy, which seems possible, the meeting will be carried forward another week. As there is considerable business to be taken care of the officers are anxious to have a meeting the first pleasant Thursday.

Mr. T. M. Neece came home from Los Angeles for the weekend and helped eat a birthday dinner with his daughter Dorothy on Sunday. Mr.
Neece and Miss Dorothy celebrate days only a week apart, ordinarily,
and this year it was most convenient to celebrate together.

Chester Frost had the misfortune to fall and sprain his arm a few days ago.

The young people were planning a dance for last Saturday night, to be given in Cypress hall. Ralph Cour, who was engineering the affair, was unable to get music for that date and it had to be given up, although they hope to have it at an early date.

Mrs. Frank Hickcox, who had two years' training as a nurse before her marriage, and who has been pressed into service a time or two in the care of some friend, is taking care of Mrs. Dr. Martin of Pasadena for a short time. Mr. Hickcox has a position in Los Angeles.

Mr. A. C. Smith writes from Big Pine, Inyo county, where he is employed by the Southern Sierras Power Co., of several interesting experiences. On last Sunday he visited the largest poultry ranch in the state, which belongs to former Mayor Eaton of Los Angeles. Fifteen men are employed there at present, although it is an off year, chicken feed being so expensive that no chickens were hatched this year and a brooder house one quarter of a mile long is unused. Mr. Smith watched them gather the eggs, something over 3000 on that day. We haven't decided how large an one-ter that would make.

Mrs. Herbert Price, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Price and family for a few days, left Saturday morning for Camp Kearny
where she is visiting her husband.

The Red Cross picnic at Bullock ranch last week proved to be a most enjoyable affair. Assorted sandwiches, salad, hot baked beans, coffee, and pie, made a delicious luncheon. Those who attended were Mrs. C. W. Greenlee, Mrs. Geo. E.
Utman and mother, Mrs. Codd, Madames J. C. Jones, O. H. Price, Wm.
McClean, Mamie Cour, Charles Donnelly, Clara Tilden, Herbert Price,
Eva Fisher, Lillian Cour, J. D. Kemp,
W. G. Pearson, George Frost, Walter Barnes, Alice Hippard and mother, Mrs. Cousins, Mrs. Fred Gilbert
and daughter Patricia, Louella Mc-Clean and Helen Burbank.

Mr. R. M. Plety, who has been here for a month superintending work in the citrus packing house, has left his duties here to begin work as salesman for the Ontario Implement company, which has just been opened up by Mr. Emmanuel Smith.

Although this season threatened to be the driest in the history of this part of the state, several excellent rains the past few weeks
have brought this year's precipitation almost up to the average rainfall. In one storm alone last week nearly three inches of rain fell, coming so slowly that all the water had a chance to soak in and do the maximum amount of good. With several weeks yet in which the weather may continue damp it seems very probable that there will be sufficient water for irrigation during the coming summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gilbert and daughter came home last week from a visit in Redlands at the home of Mr. Gilbert's brother, Claude Gilbert.

Mrs. Bandle, who is a house guest of Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Troyer, spend Thursday in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Frost and children drove out from San Bernardino
Friday evening for a visit with Mr.
Frost's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo.
Frost.

Mr. J. G. Thompson continues to improve in health. He visited in Upland Sunday at the home of his son,
Mr. J. B. Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Stineberg and children are visiting in Lankershim at the home of Mrs. Stineberg's parents.

The Orange Belt Emporium invites you to attend their

Spring Fashion Review

Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, March 14, 15, 16

An exhibition of Fashion's latest creations in women's wear, children's footwear, the new dress fabrics, and accessories. Overwhelming difficulties have not prevented complete and comprehensive selections. Even a woman with a most casual knowledge of market conditions will realize that spring stocks have not been secured without facing and overcoming seemingly unsurmountable obstacles. The scarcity of materials and labor and the difficulties of transportation have made the assembling of these representative displays a serious problem but we have found its solution, as the showings for this Spring Fashion Review will conclusively prove.

Orange Belt Emporium, Pomona, Cal.

Harold B. Ross, who is in the 882nd Aero Squadron, has written from Garden City, Long Island, that he is stationed at Field 2. He had been to see Philip Johnston, who was just getting out of quarantine, and owing to an outbreak of scarlet fever among the boys with whom Harold had been associated, three cases having been reported, he rather feared a ten day quarantine for himself. He was hoping to escape, however, and get an opportunity to see New York City before being ordered to France. He found the trip from Texas to New York very interesting and at the time of writing said he was feeling "fine except for a slight cough."

Mrs. E. T. Myers has received word that her nephew, Sergt. Miles Gebbart, has reached France in safety.
Sergt. Gebbart, who used to live in Grapeland and who has been a frequent visitor in Etiwanda, is with the medical division of the army and was until recently located in New Jersey.

Mrs. Robert Henderson went to Los Angeles Saturday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Parker, who has been a frequent visitor here at the Henderson home.

Mrs. Fred Koch is giving her time Friday afternoons to helping the children in the Junior Red Cross who are trying to crochet and knit for the French orphans. Mrs. Koch also finds time to knit for the Red Cross and do a great deal of work outside her well kept home. Mr. J.
C. Jones should also be mentioned in connection with the children of the Etiwanda school, as he has had his machine at the school house on several rainy evenings offering to take every child home whose parents had no way of sending for it.
Along with several other public spirited people in Etiwanda Mrs. Koch and Mrs. Jones remind us of some one of whom it was said "He went about doing good."

Coterie Benefit—

A very delightful afternoon was spent by the guests of the Coterie club at the hall when invitations were issued for a benefit for the Red Cross. Botted plants and calla lilies were used in decoration. Bridge and five hundred were the games enjoyed. Mrs. Byron Ford and Mrs. James Black were the fortunate ones to get bridge prizes and Mrs. Bell received first for five hundred. Nut bread sandwiches and tea were served by the members of the club. About $40 was cleared, which was turned over to the Red Cross. The club desires to express its appreciation to the Odd Fellows for the use of the hall.

U. V. F. D. Entertains—

The Upland fire department has added two more names to its service flag, making six all together. The departing members, George Bunker and Robert Klindt, were given a smoker on Wednesday evening at the fire hall. About twenty-five invited guests were present to enjoy the good time. Refreshments were served at 10:30, the committee in charge being L. N. Kirk and W. F. Clark.

Circle Meets—

Varying the usual custom, the Circle girls met last Friday evening in the Red Cross rooms, and under the supervision of Mrs. Price, folded surgical dressings. There was a good attendance and consequently a nice amount of work was accomplished. Shortly after 9 o'clock the young ladies repaired to the home of Mrs. W. R. Goetz where they were delightfully entertained for the remainder of the evening by Mrs. Goetz and Mrs. Paul Schowalter, who acted as hostesses. Important business was attended to, after which tempting refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Red Cross Silver Tea—

A most enjoyable afternoon is guaranteed those who attend the Red Cross silver tea, which will be given Friday afternoon, March 15, by the following committee: Miss Marjorie Reynolds, Miss Phyllis Miller, Miss Edith Hanson, Miss Lotie Ham, and Miss Mary Clarke, at the home of Mrs. George E. Hall, who has offered her attractive residence on Euclid avenue to the Red Cross for this occasion. The program for the afternoon includes artistic fancy dancing, singing, violin and piano solos, and visitors are expected from 2:30 to 6. A cordial invitation is extended to every one in the colony, who has the interests of the Red Cross at heart, and who are more than willing to do their bit, by giving all their bits on Friday afternoon to the Silver Red Cross Tea.

Entertain Men of Chaffey—

Last Monday evening Mrs. W. W. Mather and Mrs. E. W. Fischer entertained the men of Chaffey Union faculty and their wives at dinner. The gentlemen were invited to the Mather home, where Mrs. Mather had prepared a delightful dinner, the occasion being the birthday anniversary of her husband. The table was appropriately decorated with Chaffey's flowing colors, orange and black, and after the first course had been served, Mrs. Mather left the host in charge, and went to Mrs. Fischer's, where the faculty wives had assembled for dinner. Pretty coral colored candles graced the dining table and the center piece of pink Japanese flowers was very effective.

The guests of Mrs. Mather were Mr. M. E. Hill, Mr. Booth, Mr. Fred Clapp, Mr. H. W. Hawkinson, Mr. W. A. Fiske, Mr. W. W. Cushing, Major Hamilton, Mr. Alan Riley, Mr. P. M. Watenpaugh, Mr. E. W. Fischer, Mr. W. W. Mather, Mr. H. W. Morse, Mr. Miller.

Mrs. Fischer's guests were Mrs. M. E. Hill, Mrs. Bogth, Mrs. H. W. Hawkinson, Mrs. Fred Clapp, Mrs. P. M. Watenpaugh, Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. W. W. Cushing, Mrs. Alan Riley, Mrs. W. A. Fiske, Mrs. W. W. Mather and Miss Sedalia Cubbison.

Spring Season Announcement—

Mrs. R. B. Bordwell of the Gerry Hat Shop announces the opening of the spring season, and on Friday, March 15 (tomorrow), all of the latest styles will be on display.

Food Exhibit—

The food exhibit beginning today at the library and continuing over to Saturday promises to be one of great interest. While the exhibit is under the auspices of the local Woman's Council of Defense, it is a new duty wished on to the library. The boys and girls of the grammar school have prepared food for this under the able leadership of Miss Margaret Jay. Miss Olive Granger and Miss Lillian Graves of the Chaffey Union high school will each talk to the women of Upland, the addresses to be given each afternoon at 4 o'clock, although the exhibit will be open from 2 until 6 o'clock. The cooked food to be donated by the women of Upland will be sold each afternoon for the benefit of the Red Cross.

St. Patrick's Day Celebration—

St. Patrick's Day celebration Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Casa Blanca hotel. Music and cards or bring your knitting. Tickets 50c. Proceeds for the Edith Cavell chapter.

THIRD BOOK DRIVE FOR BENEFIT OF CAMP KEARNY

The third book drive for the benefit of the library at Camp Kearny will start on Monday the 18th and will continue for the week. This is general all over California for one camp or another but, for the sixth district, more especially for Camp Kearny. The books needed—15,000—to quote Camp Librarian Squire, are as follows: 10,000 fiction, and the men best like Western stories, northern stories, of the Beach, Bowler, Curwood, Raine, Grey, White, etc., type. Also the "Tarzan of the Apes" style of book appeals to them. Attractive binding are asked for, green with red lettering seems to appeal to the men as a color scheme, also donate books of a size that will go inside their chests, as the favorite carrying place is in the front part of the shirt. Neither Kipling nor Doyle, nor Bulwer-Lytton seem to appeal to them. Such books as "Private Peat," Empey's "Over the Top," etc., seem to be the books called for. All poetry is acceptable and especially Service's "Spell of the Yukon," and "Rhymes of a Red Cross Man." A great need is chemistry books, trigonometry, physiology, biology and geology, such as are being used in the high school at the present time, not material that was used in 1849. Mr. Quire asked for 500 Spanish books, not text books, of the best known in literature, such as Kipling, Dante. About one thousand Mexicans in camp and their great need is books written in the Spanish language. Gaily's Classic Myths in Spanish had been called for. Also standard authors in paper backs for the contagion ward.

The library at Camp Kearny is a beautiful building, 40x93, paneled in beaver board and tinted a deep buff. Rows of sliding windows on three sides of the building give plenty of light and air. The library building and equipment is used, said Mr. Quire, by the men as a place to keep warm, borrow a little mullage, tie up packages, and, when some poor befuddled Mexican mother wishes to get to her son in the hospital, they (some one from the hostess house, the Y. M. C. A., or other association) do not hesitate to come to the camp librarian and ask to have her taken over in the auto used to get the books to the five branches. This building cost $6,339.39. Books donated by the library association, 5481, of which 1720 are non-fiction. To show the great need of the library, the circulation for the month of February was 16,658 for something over 5000 books. This against the Upland circulation of 1500 or 1600 with a deposit of about 5000.

This visit of the librarian to Camp Kearny was because of the sixth district meeting and the dedication of the library building. In behalf of the American Library association, Mr. Ferguson, the state librarian, presented the building to the camp through Major-General Strong, the commander of the 40th division. The meeting was called to order by the president, Miss Julia Steffa, of the Fresno county free library. The address of welcome was given by Chaplain Arthur W. T. Hicks, 159th Infantry, which was responded to by state president, Sarah E. McCordle, The "Librarian in War Time," "Autobiographically Speaking," by Mrs. Ethel Hueston Best (author of "Prudence in the Parsonage"), "War Publicity Through Libraries," and "Camp Kearny Library and Its Needs," were among the addresses given and were most instructive and helpful to the librarians present. At one o'clock the librarians were served mess in the mess hall of Company M, 160th Infantry. Following the luncheon the review was viewed from the Y. M. C. A. boxing platform which had been reserved for the librarians. This most impressive sight was enjoyed by thousands and thousands of people, and only because of weather conditions was the review postponed, so that the librarians were able to view it. Some idea of what the United States government is trying to do was gained when the fact is taken into consideration that this is only one camp of 30,000 men of all the nation has in training.

The concert on the Chaffey course, given by the Schumann Quintette, again proved entertaining and most satisfactory. Mr. Lampert, manager and conductor of the quintette, made the performance interesting and comprehensive to the audience by his very appropriate remarks and explanations of each number. The first movement of "Beethoven's Fifth Symphony," "Dance of the Hours," ballet from "La Gioconda," selections from Bizet's "Carmen," and the overture to "The Merry Wives of Windsor" were numbers that were particularly enjoyed and well rendered.

Mrs. C. V. Calhoun received word last week of the safe arrival of her son, Lynn Griffith, across the waters. Lynn enlisted the day before Thanksgiving, passed as engine tester and left on February 8 for "over there," as first class sergeant with the First Regiment of Motor Mechanics of the Signal Corps.

Lieut. Roy Ruth of the Cathoven Unit No. 35 of the medical division of the army, left last Saturday for Camp Bowie at Fort Worth, Texas, where he will work in the base hospital for some time before going "over there." It is a happy and fortunate circumstance that Dr. Schenk of Ontario, also of this unit, who has been Dr. Ruth's companion and room mate since their first year in medical school in Kansas City and later at U. S. C., also received his call for duty at Camp Bowie at the same time, while the majority of the unit are still in Los Angeles.

Frank Nichols is now in camp at Charlotte, N. C. He writes, in response to a "questionnaire" mailed him, asking the questions his family wanted to know, that he has gained 25 pounds in weight, is feeling fine and soon expects to go over. Nichols, senior, proudly calls attention to the fact that the Army and Navy Journal, the military publication, claims the regiment his son is in, is the crack regiment of the service.

Mrs. Lilla Hair, who has not been well for some time, is now much better and able to be among her friends again.

Robert Manker was the loser of a wheel on Wednesday evening. It wheeled itself away about 7 o'clock from beside a pepper tree almost immediately under the street light. Bobby thinks the joke is on the thief though, for about the first thing he'll have to invest in is new tires. The Mankers think they have had just a little too much of a good thing, however, as William had the misfortune to have his wheel stolen some months ago.

A young man who has been about town for some time, came down Second avenue early this morning shouting, "I told the people of Upland but they wouldn't believe me." Residents along the street had their early morning snooze disturbed through the young fellow's ravings and with a few moments Officer Redmon was on the job and locked the man in the city jail.

A great improvement is being made at the 18th street school playground by cutting back to bare stumps the huge pepper trees, which were showing the effects of too much deadwood. Much to the delight of their friends in the colony, Mr. and Mrs. Royal Burnstead and children have moved from Riverside back to their home in Ontario, this week. Mrs. Burnstead is a sister of Dr. Winthrop, and her friends in Upland are very pleased that she is once more among them.

Mrs. F. H. Manker was in attendance at the sixth district convention of the California Library association at the library at Camp Kearny Saturday. Besides the convention, the review was enjoyed.

Friends of T. K. Vernon have asked him to consider the place and Mr. Vernon stated to a News representative, "My friends want me to be a candidate, and I'm willing if the voters want me to serve. If there is any one else who desires the position, I'll consent to withdraw my name and will vote for him."

Seven different cottage prayer meetings are being held on this Thursday and Friday evenings. Neighbors and friends are invited to these meetings which begin at 7:30 p. m.

Beginning with this Sunday two weeks of special meetings will be held in the church. The hour will be 7:30 p. m. The pastor will preach each evening. No meeting will be held on Saturday evenings. The object of these meetings is to present the life, the teachings and the claims of Jesus Christ whose resurrection we are soon to commemorate. They are for all. No pressure will be used to persuade you to join this church, but rather the church of your choice. If you must stay away, stay away prayerfully. If you can come, come as often as possible. Give us your help, your sympathy, your prayers.

Sunday morning subject will be "Overcoming Through Faith." At 7:30 the African topic will be "The Womanhood of Africa." The sermon topic will be "Who Are the Lost?" Wm. Rickel will lead the Epworth League Sunday evening at 6:30. All young people come. "Get the 6:25 habit."

Passion Week, March 24 to 31, we are to make a time of self-sacrifice for "Others and the Kingdom." Gifts will be brought in Easter morning and divided equally between the Home and Foreign Missions of the church. Previous missionary collections taken this year have gone to the women's work. This goes to the Board of Missions of the Methodist Episcopal church and supports the regular missionaries in America and foreign countries. Many of the missionaries in the Orient are suffering. Never was the opportunity so good to reach the un-Christian masses. While we give for the Stars and Stripes we will not let Christ's work go with less. Every man, woman, and child can give something by sacrificing.

SURVEY OF MUSSELS OF PA- CIFIC COAST

Vast quantities of mussels on the Pacific coast are to be called upon to do their part toward winning the war for democracy. The Pacific coast research committee, the scientific branch of the State Council of Defense, has undertaken a survey of the mussels in these waters, the work having been begun under the direction of C. A. Kofoid, professor of zoology in the University of California.

However, Professor Kofoid was needed in another branch of service, having recently been commissioned a major in the sanitary corps of the army, and the survey is being carried on by Dr. B. L. Clark, instructor in palaeontology in the university. He is being assisted by the U. S. bureau of fisheries, two of its scientists, E. P. Rankin, head biologist of the ship Albatross, and H. L. Kelly, assistant in charge of statistics and methods, having been detailed to the work. The committee will undertake to determine the quantity of mussels along the Pacific coast and their accessibility. It will also collect data as to all the different methods of cooking mussels, how to can them, and when and how to collect them for market. The canneries will be encouraged to put them on the market in quantities, so that the people may add this article of diet to their menus on all possible occasions.

The committee will make a study of the conditions under which the mussels live, the rate of growth, spawning season, enemies, etc., with a view to assisting nature in their propagation.

NO DENYING IT

It was the rush hour in one of those quick lunch places where you help yourself and use the arm of your chair as a table. A man called for a piece of pie and chose a chair; then, remembering that he wanted coffee, he dashed over to the service counter. When he returned with his coffee the chair was occupied by another hurry-up diner.

"Excuse me," said the first man, "but that is my chair."

"How do you know it is your chair?" demanded the occupant in a surly tone.

"Because I can prove it," stated the first man.

"How can you prove it?" asked the occupant.

"By your trousers," was the reply. "You are sitting on my pie."

UNIVERSITY PROFESSOR MADE MAJOR IN REGULAR ARMY

The University of California has again experienced the drain of the war on its teaching personnel. R. T. Crawford, associate professor of practical astronomy, has just received word of his appointment as a temporary major in the United States signal corps. Professor Crawford has accepted the appointment and will report at Fort Omaha, Nebraska, to take charge of the government air balloon school located there. It is understood that Prof. Crawford's appointment was made on the recommendation of Colonel John T. Nance, who was formerly professor of military science and tactics at the University of California and who is now in charge of the air balloon service of the American army.

Since its inception, Major Crawford has been in charge of the "Course in Naval Preparation" offered by the University of California. His work at Fort Omaha, it is stated, will be along administrative lines and will have to do with organization and supervision of instruction at the balloon observers' school.

Professor Crawford is a graduate of the University of California with the class of 1897, and received his degree of doctor of philosophy in astronomy, mathematics and physics in 1907. As a graduate student he was an assistant in astronomy at Berkeley and a fellow at the Lick observatory. Upon receiving his Ph. D. degree he was appointed to assist Prof. A. O. Leuschner of the department of astronomy situated in Berkeley, in the investigations of perturbations of asteroids. In 1902-1903 Professor Crawford was examiner in the civil service commission at Washington. Since then he has been connected with the Berkeley astronomical department. He has published many contributions on comet orbits and other astronomical researches. In 1911-12 he visited the principal observatories of the world and attended lectures at European universities.

By arrangement with the Lick observatory, Dr. H. D. Curtis, a widely known astronomer, has been secured to continue Professor Crawford's courses.

FIELD PEAS LISTED AS WINTER FORAGE CROP

Among the crops that may be grown in California during the winter season for forage purposes, Canada field peas hold an important place, according to a circular bulletin just issued by the University of California College of Agriculture. P. B. Kennedy, associate professor of agronomy in the university, who compiled the information in the bulletin, states in part: "Field peas are adapted to moderate temperatures and will withstand frost, but not severe freezing weather. The soil should contain an abundance of lime, and, where this is not present, naturally, 1000 to 2000 pounds of burned lime or twice this quantity of ground limestone should be applied per acre."

"There are about 100 varieties of field peas, differing in time of appearance, amount of herbage, and the size and color of the flowers and pods. Field peas may be broadcasted or drilled alone, or sown with a cereal crop, preferably oats or rye. Drilling insures more even and certain germination. The best time to cut for hay is when the plants have the first pods well grown but not matured, and the vines still blossoming. When grown for hay it is nearly always advantageous to sow the peas with oats or rye. A good crop of peas will serve in fattening from ten to fifteen lambs per acre, the lambs gaining about eight pounds per month. From seventy to ninety days will place them in excellent market condition. One ton of seed per acre is considered a good yield. The straw has considerable food value and will be readily eaten by stock, particularly sheep. A ton to a ton and a half of straw per acre may be expected."

Those further interested in the subject should write to the University of California College of Agriculture, Berkeley, asking for circular No. 189, "Winter Forage Crops."

SYSTEM IS A GOOD THING

How many housewives have a well laid plan for the tasks of each day? There are certain duties that must be accomplished daily, one day laid aside for "general cleaning up," and then the planning generally ends, all other varied tasks being thrown in as time permits. This necessitates a great waste of time in making fresh decisions constantly and many are the worries consequent upon leaving things which mean family comfort undone.

Fine Program Arranged by Foresters

The local Independent Order of Foresters has arranged a very interesting program for their entertainment to be given in the auditorium of the South Side school on tomorrow, Friday, evening, at 8 o'clock. There will be numbers by the well-known reader, Mrs. J. Frank Jenkins, now of Upland, and musical selections by our local talent, Messrs. Rolland McKennett, violinist; Philip Wangler, Mrs. Alice Phillips and Mrs. Helen Sommerville in popular piano duets, in all fifteen numbers, and all this for the magnificent sum of nil—absolutely nothing, free to all. The local lodge of Foresters will surely be welcomed by a rousing big crowd to take advantage of the musical treat prepared for them. Friday evening, March 15, at the Cucamonga school.

Congratulations in Order

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Johns are rejoicing over the arrival via the Stork route, of a wee baby daughter, weighing seven pounds, who made her appearance last Friday night at her new home on Haven avenue. All are doing nicely and the proud head of the family is kept busy "passing out the cigars."

In the Shadow

The many friends of Mrs. G. P. Ledig of Alta Loma will be grieved to learn of her death, which occurred last Sunday morning at the family residence on Amethyst avenue. Mrs. Ledig had been a great sufferer and confined to her bed for the past year. She is survived by her husband and four children, Paul, Ruth, Margaret and Rachel. Funeral services were held in San Bernardino at the Masonic temple, on Monday at 10 a. m.

Service Flag

Last Monday was surely a "red letter" day for the Red Cross, when the local members met in all-day session at the chapter's headquarters. The ladies served luncheon at the noon hour, each lady present having contributed toward the good eats, which consisted of war bread sandwiches, cold meats, pickles, red hot spaghetti and pie, with hot coffee. Sounds just "too lovely for anything," doesn't it, and they are suggesting that just such a red letter day be made a monthly affair—and why not charge a "jitney" for coffee or a cup of tea, and thus raise a little bit each time to help on the purchase of materials, etc.? This is done in various Red Cross chapters in the Angel City. And now and then some one donates a handsome cake, doughnuts, or pie, which is sold off at so much per cut. Every little helps. Incidentally, too, this would attract others, and the chapter would be the winner in being able to turn out that much more work; for instance, last Monday, 12 workers arrived in the morning and in the afternoon the number was increased to twenty and 300 surgical "wipes" were folded and ready for shipment, which is pretty good record for the fifteen pairs of hands engaged in this work.

Red Cross Service Flag

A fine service flag in honor of the boys of our community who have responded to their country's call will before long float in the breezes on the corner of the "King's Highway," the Morris drug store corner. A card index with names and addresses of the boys is being prepared. Just how many stars the flag will have it not yet known, but one gold star will shine undimmed for the first soldier boy from our community to pass to the shore beyond, William H. Cook, who died recently in France.

Red Cross Benefit April 5

April fifth is the date now set for the big Red Cross supper and entertainment to be held on the evening of Friday, April 5, at the Central school. The affair will be under the auspices of the local Red Cross chapter, instead of the Woman's club, as announced heretofore. Every one in the country is expected to drop in that evening and partake of the most tempting cafeteria supper. Preparations are being made to care for over 200 guests. Red Cross enthusiasts from our sister cities, Upland, Etiwanda, and Ontario, are invited to motor our way and try out the Spanish war supper, as follows: Spanish baked beans, spaghetti, salads, hot brown bread, rye bread, lemon, apple and mince pies, hot coffee and chocolate—all cafeteria style. The supper will be followed by a very interesting and unique entertainment: a dainty musicale by Mrs. Roy Powell Rice, of Corona, in Indian and folk songs, and a very amusing little one-act play, entitled "Food," by the talented reader, Mrs. Arthur H. Bridge, assisted by Mr. Bridge and Mrs. Geo. Morris. The proceeds are all to go to the local chapter of the Red Cross, which is very much in need of funds for the purchase of yarns and many other materials, to be made up into garments and knitted wear for the soldier boys who have left home and mother to fight on foreign fields for us, one and all, that the world "may be made

Grape Growers' Meeting

An important grape growers' meeting was held at the office of the Cucamonga Vintage company on last Monday afternoon, and adopted resolutions pledging themselves to oppose by every honorable means the ratification of the Shepard boneyard national prohibition amendment at the next session of the legislature. Frank Belcher of Pomona, president, and F. A. Lucas of Cucamonga acted as secretary. H. F. Stoll, secretary of the California Grape Protective association, explained the provisions of the Shepard amendment and discussed the fight for its ratification in the various states. Resolutions as offered by Benton Ballou of Ontario were unanimously adopted by the grape growers present. The meeting was held under the auspices of Benton Ballou of Ontario, George L. Belcher of Pomona, Secondi Gausti of Los Angeles and H. H. Thomas of Cucamonga. Leading growers from Los Angeles, Riverside, Orange and San Bernardino, were present.

front very nicely, as I do not know what could be of any better use than the sweater and kit you sent to me, as it gets pretty cold over here in the winter. And you can imagine how nice that sweater felt to me.

I could hardly wait to get the box open, as I had the sweater on the kit. I even saw what was in the kit. And I sure must say a person could not think of sending anything more useful than that kit. It just tickles me to death, as I have it open about every hour, for it is something I find use for every minute in the day. And I must say I surely appreciate the kindness of the people of Upland very much.

Well, I must say to you people of Upland, I thank you one and all for your kind favors and the good work you are doing for our country and our brave boys at the front, who are suffering the hardships of life in those trenches.

I wish you people many happy returns of the day and a prosperous New Year. With love and luck to all, I am, G. H. BLOHM. Care U. S. Postal Agency, Shanghai, China, care U. S. S. Samar. San Pedro, Cal., March 3, 1918. Ladies of the Upland Chapter of the Red Cross.

We are writing to express our appreciation for the excellent comfort kits given to us. It is impossible to state what we would have done without them, for since our "ditty boxes" are so small, we certainly need something to hold the few articles we are allowed to keep, in a compact form.

Being in the detention camp, we are thrown with many fellows in close quarters. Every one we have shown our kits to, has been loud in their praise, and the saying of each one is, "Gee! but I wish I had one like that!" Many of the fellows have kits, but none of them have any that can compare with ours. Thanks to you.

Very sincerely yours, W. WRIGHT HAMILTON. CLAIRE E. KIRK. U. S. N. R. F.

UPLAND AMAZED BY SUDDEN ACTION

The quick action of pure Lavoptik eye wash is startling. A school boy had eye strain so badly he could not read. A week's use of Lavoptik surprised his teacher so much she used it for her old mother. ONE WASH showed benefit. A small bottle is guaranteed to benefit EVERY CASE weak, strained or inflamed eyes. The QUICK result is astonishing. Alumnum eye cup FREE. O. P. Brady, Druggust—adv.

The death of Thomas E. Smith occurred last Friday morning at 4:30 following an illness of several months. Mr. Smith was born in New York and was 47 years of age at the time of his death, and for eleven years had been a resident of Upland and in the employ of the Ontario Power company. He was a man of ability and experience in things electrical and had a host of friends both here and in Ontario.

A widow survives him. The funeral services were held from St. Mark's church on Sunday afternoon at 2:30. Rev. Eubanks officiating and C. L. Vedder in charge of arrangements. The Masonic lodges of Upland and Ontario took charge of services at Bellevue cemetery.
